

Agnew: Four Pronounced Success

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

Agnew's trip to Asia appears to have been a diplomatic and political success, at home and abroad.

Agnew impressed Asian leaders with his straight and candid talk, he sought to reassure them that the Nixon doctrine means the United States will maintain itself as a Pacific power.

At the same time, he emphasized the twin goals of greater Asian self-reliance and avoiding use of U.S. combat troops there in the future.

The trip certainly succeeded in its first basic purpose, to enable Agnew to broaden his knowledge of the world and its problems, and the vice president believes that it succeeded in its other main aim, to give Asian leaders a clearer idea of U.S. intentions in the 1970s.

President Nixon sent Agnew on the trip clearly remembering the benefits he received from a similar mission for President Dwight D. Eisenhower 16 years ago. Agnew returns more conversant with the problems in this key area of the world and able to display this knowledge in the political speech-making he is about to undertake.

But despite Agnew's belief that the Asian leaders with whom he met understand U.S. policy, some doubts remain. His statements about U.S. initiatives towards Communist China caused apprehension and confusion on Formosa, and Thailand seems unsure of American intentions.

Mayor Supports Federal Help

POCAHONTAS, Ark. (AP) — Mayor Jesse C. Hayes of Pocahontas has asked the state to study how it can qualify for federal ambulance assistance.

The Arkansas Legislative Council is scheduled to consider Friday Hayes' proposal for a study of existing state laws and the possibility of adopting new laws that would enable the state, cities and counties to comply with federal ambulance standards and to obtain federal grants to finance ambulance service.

Hayes said the new Highway Safety Act had caused several private ambulance firms to go out of business.

have enough funds in that particular account to cover a $1,000 check.

The exact amount of Brody's assets remained unclear. His maternal grandfather, John F. Jelke, an oleomargarine magnate, died in 1968 and his estate was worth $6.9 million. About half this was left in trust for several beneficiaries, including Brody, but no breakdown on the inheritances was available. Brody received his share last October, when he turned 21.

An official of Continental Bank in Chicago, which managed Brody's trust, said estimates of $25 million were "gross exaggerations."

The national epic of Finland is the Kalevala. This work served as a model for "The Song of Hiawatha" by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, who undertook to shape the legends of the Algonquin Indians into an artificial folk epic.

Barred From School in Neighborhood

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A 14-year old school boy was taken into custody by a U.S. marshal today after he defied a federal judge's order which prohibited him from attending his neighborhood school.

Mrs. Raymond P. York, who had escorted her son Ray to the school, immediately renewed her pledge that she would "never take him to Harding," the junior high school to which Ray had been assigned.

The arrest was made without incident as a group of about 15 supporters and newsmen stood by in nine-degree weather. Mrs. York said the marshal was courteous and "volunteered to let me babysit," with Ray.

The youngster had been assigned to Harding Junior High School under a temporary school integration plan ordered into effect last Aug. 13 by U.S. Dist. Court Judge Luther Bohannon.

But Ray, with the backing of his parents, had continued to attend Taft Junior High.

Mrs. York said she was not told when her son would be returned to her. Bohannon earlier had said Ray would be kept in custody during the school day and returned to his parents at night.

Thomas Nicholson, 58, the hospital's radon plant operator, and William Grant, 40, of the radiation firm, also were in the room. Grant's job was to monitor instruments inside the chamber while the others worked to place the radium in a series of sealed, insulated containers for eventual burial. But Grant was forced out of the room twice by a malfunctioning air mask.

Dr. Laughlin said that if a person was exposed to the radium for 10 minutes the exposure would be lethal. In the outside rooms, the amount of background radiation was equal, in one hour, to the amount a person is normally exposed to from cosmic rays over a week.

Israeli Bomb But 12 Miles From Cairo

By MARCUS ELIASON
Associated Press Writer

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israel kept up its attacks on the heartland of Egypt Sunday, striking military targets within a few miles of Cairo and the industrial city of Helwan, military spokesmen said. It was the fourth penetration of the Nile Valley in less than two weeks.

Other Israeli aircraft were reported to have hit Egyptian positions at the northern and southern ends of the Suez Canal.

In the major attack, Israeli planes bombed "a large Egyptian military base" at Huckstep, 12 miles east of Cairo, and an equipment and ammunition storage area three miles from Helwan, the spokesmen said.

All planes returned safely, the Israelis said.

The Egyptian command acknowledged the attack at Huckstep, said the raiders did no damage, and claimed that Egyptian anti-aircraft fire downed one Israeli Skyhawk and damaged another in the southern sector of the Suez Canal.

Palestinian guerrilla leader Yasser Arafat met in Beirut with Maj. Gen. Jean Jimein, the new commander of the Lebanese army. Observers believe they are trying to prevent further deterioration of relations between the Lebanese government and the guerrillas operating against Israel from Lebanese territory.

The guerrillas have charged they are being denied freedom of movement and action against Israel because the Lebanese fear Israeli reprisals.

In Amman, the Palestine Armed Struggle Command reported that Arab guerrillas shelled an Israeli settlement south of the Dead Sea with heavy mortars for 90 minutes Sunday and also an Israeli army camp south of the Dead Sea.

A spokesman said guerrillas also attacked Israeli vehicles, patrols and advanced outposts in the northern Jordan Valley, inflicting heavy losses on the Israelis. He said one guerrilla was killed.

The Beirut newspaper Al Nahar also reported the Lebanese government is having second thoughts about the red carpet treatment it has been giving Christian Belon, the Frenchman who hijacked a TWA jet to Beirut. Foreign Ministry officials were reported fearful of damage to Lebanon's role as the communications hub of the Middle East.

Belon, who said he hijacked the Boeing 707 on Jan. 8 to focus world sympathy on Lebanon and the Arab cause, was released from jail on $800,000 bail, invited to Interior Minister Kamal Jumblatt's palatial mountain home for a week's vacation, and called a hero by newspapers and politicians.

The International Federation of Air Line Pilot's Associations condemned Lebanon's reaction.

she is a member of Sophomore Council.

Williams is a senior history and political science major and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. LaGrone Williams of 402 South Pine. At Hendrix he is a member of the Pre-Theology Club, Alpha Psi Omega dramatic fraternity, and Couch Hall dorm council.

Rotary Club Told About Millage Hike

John Tallant was taken into the Hope Rotary Club in brief ceremonies conducted by Albert Graves at the weekly club meeting in the Town and Country last Friday. Steven Bader renewed his active status in the club at the same time.

Superintendent of Schools James H. Jones brought the Rotarians facts about the Hope School District in relation to other districts. He pointed out that with school operation on an inflationary spiral, a millage increase is badly needed. Hope is number 31 in the size of school districts in Arkansas, but it is below the state average in money spent per pupil.

Aided by visual education charts, the speaker explained financial problems that went from salaries of personnel to the cost of vocational expansion, instructional materials, and land acquisition. "With 235 regular employees, the Hope School District is the biggest industry in the county," he said.

School Board President George Frazier was guest and introduced the speaker, Dale Franks of the Hope High faculty, Bill Rounton of the Hope School Board, and Paul Choate of the Game and Fish Commission were guests, and J. Ed Smith of Prescott was a visiting Rotarian. President Denny Coleman had a brief board meeting at the conclusion of the program.

ward the United States.

The first of what amounts to a new series of ambassadorial meetings—such talks were held between 1955 and 1968—will be in the Chinese embassy at Warsaw. They were arranged as a result of preliminary contacts there Dec. 3, 11 and Jan. 7.

Ambassador Walter J. Stoessel, a professional diplomat with long experience in handling relations with Communist countries, will represent the United States. It was let who got the quick response from Peking to arrange the Tuesday meeting after Stoessel's first proposal Dec. 3.

The meeting will be the 135th in the series of talks that lasted two years ago. While the Tuesday session officially represents a continuation of the series, in practical effect it is regarded as a fresh start with more promise than existed earlier.

The unchanging barrier to any progress in the early meetings was Red China's insistence that the United States abandon Nationalist China on Formosa.

The U.S. refusal is unchanged and whether the Peking regime will be willing to bypass this issue now is unknown. But there is some belief here this may prove true.

The Sino-Soviet conflict is the principal element of change in the situation involving the next round of U.S.-China talks.

If Peking leaders foresee a serious possibility of war with Russia, as they have been telling their own people for the past month, they presumably want to try to prevent the United States and Russia from ganging up against them by assuring American neutrality in advance.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers has declared publicly several times the last six months that U.S. policy is one of neutrality. He emphasized in a speech here Thursday "We have no intention of exploiting" Sino-Soviet differences.

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

GOODBYE, SIXTIES!

Dear Helen: What with everyone offering requests to the Sixties, why don't we bury some of the overused slang words, too? I no longer groove on the zoned-out rap my kids use to prove they're hip. I'm from the day when "head" was a nautical term and "Marylane" was a make of shoe.

Does anyone else get bad vibes from the freaky new vocabulary?—OVERKILLED

Dear O.K.: Come on now, you're as fascinated as I am by those weird words—and that's why the kids will soon produce a new crop. When elders "get into" the young generation's slang, it's zapped man! Youth is very up tight about over-30 corycats.

So let's toll the bell for 1960s slang with a game of:

REMEMBER WHEN?—

"Turn on, tune in and drop out" meant you hunkered up to the TV set—and fell asleep. "Topless" described stale beer (not bare), and "bottomless" was a teen-age boy's stomach.

It was "a chicken in every pot," not "pot in every chick." A "bird" wore feathers and could fly. (She still does sometimes, but it isn't the same.)

"Hang up" was what a girl did when her mother found her clothes "strung out" over the room.

A "bummer" rode the rails. "Dorky" was something you put in a lock, and a ding-a-ling tinkled, but didn't ring anybody's chimes.

"Cool" was "not so hot." A "trip" started by cab, not "tab."

"Soul brothers" belonged to the Fraternal Order of Ghosts. "Out of sight" was around the corner, not "w y up there!"

A "big bust" didn't land you jail. (And "getting busted" meant little Mary was growing up, not headed for the paddy wagon.)

"Flake off" was not a command but a dandruff remover.

"Funky" might have been Mr. Wagnall's nickname for his sidekick.

"Uppers" were what grandpa took out of his mouth and soaked in a glass of water every night. And a "downer" was the elevator to the basement.

A "burn artist" was a backyard barbecuer.

"Psych-out" was the sign on a psychiatrist's door when he went to lunch.

"The fuzz" came on peaches, not in a patrol car.

"Getting stoned" was alcoholic, not psychedelic.

"Pop" was the head of the family, not what a "head" does with pills.

And "The Pill" was not capitalized.

What kind of words are in store for us "slang freaks" of the seventies? One just off the grid-die is "righteous," meaning "heavy," "groovy," real okay. Also, the kids are going back to the Thirties for such goodies as "Swell," "Keen," "Copsartie," "Hotshot-athlet!"

And if you don't like the new phrases, my middle-aged friend, just start using them around your offspring. You'll be surprised how fast they're scratched as uncool. FPO (For Parents Only)—H.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Michael James Brody Jr., the generous margarine millionaire, not only made the headlines over the weekend, he also broke into show business—at the top.

That keen and flexible booker of talent, Ed Sullivan, moved fast and signed up the 21-year-old Brody for his Sunday night show. Brody has been handing out money for several days and promising to give away more. Knowing public curiosity was running high, Sullivan kept Brody's "singing debut" until close to the end of the CBS hour.

When it came, it may have been the biggest anticlimax in television since the marriage of Tiny Tim. Brody, in casual clothes and clutching a guitar, came on stage with his young wife and announced diffidently, "This is my first appearance anywhere ever." He strummed the guitar and sang something called "You Ain't Going Nowhere." At the conclusion, Mike kissed his wife, confided that "I've got 100 billion dollars to give out next week," and disappeared.

It is very probable that Brody makes a better philanthropist than performer and it is almost certain that Ed Sullivan will have a big fat rating for his show because Brody appeared on it.

The other acts were the standard Sullivan mix—the singing-dancing Kessler Twins, Cassius Clay in a scene from his now-closed Broadway play, a comedy magic turn, and June Allyson singing a medley of old songs. Brody, it turned out, brightened the Sullivan corner considerably.

Most actuality programs are produced by the network, which use their own news departments, and thus even a well done program by an independent producer has difficulty finding a network berth.

"Thirty Days to Survival" is one of those, but it impressed a sponsor who lined up a lot of independent stations to broadcast it. The program is the filmed account of the experiences of a group of young Americans—average age 17—in the mountain wilderness of Wyoming.

The expedition was headed by Paul Petzoldt, founder of the National Outdoor Leadership School, who believes that an experience in survival builds character and independence.

Petzoldt and his aides taught the young people how to climb and descend the sheer face of mountains, to cross running streams, to identify edible roots and nuts, to fish, to read maps and follow trails.

The party packed into wilderness country carrying their own supplies to learn for a month under supervision. Then they were left to their own devices 60 or 70 miles from the nearest ranch to make their way back by living off the land. They made it, it was hard, and it was the basis of a very interesting hour of television.

ABC begins a major schedule revision tonight when "It Takes a Thief" moves into the time period formerly occupied by "Music Scene." It will be followed at 8:30 EST by a two-hour film broadcast. This means that hereafter an ABC movie rerun will be competing with NBC's Monday night movie rerun.

Bobcats Nip Arkadelphia in Overtime

By RALPH ROUNTON

HOPE, Ark. (AP) — It took an extra overtime period, but the Bobcats finally overcame the Arkadelphia Badgers 69-68 in a 4-A Western Division thriller at Jones Field House last Saturday night.

In November, Hope had beaten No. 1 Arkadelphia 14-7 for the 4-A West football crown, and in the first game Saturday evening the HHS "B" Lizards had edged the Badgers, Jayvees only 44-42. But the overtime win was the best game played here in several years.

Including the 75-41 loss to Camden Lincoln last Friday, Hope now is 9-6 for the season and 1-1 in the division, while the Badgers are 12-4 and 0-1. Arkadelphia came out with a planned defense which put 6-2 Bill Vining, a fine all-around ball player, on 6-6 Bobcat John Dudley, while they left 6-4 Jimmy Copeland to handle Hope's 6-5 Larry Muldrew.

For four minutes it worked fine, as the Badgers got scoring from starters Freddie Lookadoo, Vining, Copeland, and Ted Berry for a 7-0 spread. It looked like a runaway.

Muldrew put the Cats on the board with a free shot at 4:01, but a minute later the Badgers still had control 10-3. The teams traded baskets again, before Hope started its first move in a closer contest.

Suddenly the momentum shifted when the Bobcat height advantage asserted itself, when Muldrew and Dudley combined for eight points more to pull within one point, 15-14 at the quarter's end.

Hope took the lead then, momentarily, then fell back again. From a 20-20 standoff at 4:36, Badgers Roosevelt Davis, Lookadoo, and Berry all sacked from outside to make it 26-20 Arkadelphia with 3:48 left in the half. Then John Dudley committed his fourth personal and left, to be replaced by soph Lynn Norton. Lynn had played all of the "B" game, which only made him eligible for one quarter of action in the finale, but the Cats had to have his 6-3 height.

It was Norton that kept Hope from falling far behind before the break, scoring six points as Arkadelphia led 37-31 at intermission.

Dudley returned at the start of the third period, and the Bobcats got a big break when Vining got his fourth foul and sat out all but a few seconds of the quarter.

Thus advantaged, Muldrew and Dudley hit eight points in three minutes while the visitors only managed a basket. That tied it 39-39, but the shooting of southpaw guard Bill Hurley (three field goals in 1:32) shot Arkadelphia back ahead 46-41.

When that spurt ended, the big men for Hope tied it back up in 45 seconds. Copeland sank a 35-footer at the buzzer, though, and the Badgers led it 50-48 entering the final frame.

Hurley kept his forces in it, with Vining playing cautiously while guarding Dudley, both with four fouls. David Briggs, whose outside swishers counted for 11 points in all, put the Cats ahead 58-54 with 4:42 left in regulation, but Vining and Davis tied it 58-58 at 3:31.

They traded free throws, then Arkadelphia got two quick baskets from Copeland and Lookadoo for a 63-59 advantage. At this crucial time, Dudley fouled out to leave with 20 points and hurt the Cats on the backboards, but it wasn't over.

Larry Muldrew took up the slack, driving first for a layup at 0:24 and then watching a bank shot roll around three times before dropping through to tie it with three seconds to play.

Overtime it was at 63-63, and both teams worked cautiously. But the turning point came when Vining was fouled with 0:58 showing by Ronnie Massanelli. The first shot was good, but since it was only the fourth Hope foul since the half there was no one-and-one.

Muldrew scored the last of his 27 points for a 67-66 Bobcat lead 45 seconds before the end, before Copeland sank two charity shots to put Arkadelphia on top 69-67 with 24 seconds to play. Hope lost a jumpball seconds later, but got it back. Massanelli drove in and met traffic at the foul line, then threw up a 12-footer. K looped around, bounce-

Hope to Host Emmet Eagles Here Tonight

By RALPH ROUNTON

Keeping Jones Field House warm during a January full of home games, the Hope "B" Lizards join the Junior and Senior Girls in hosting Emmet here tonight, starting at 5:30 p.m. Yeger's Junior Kitty Cats romped over Willisville 49-33 in their last start, and own an earlier victory over Emmet of 50-35.

Under Coach Jo Adcock, the Kitty Cats appear to be jelling offensively with Janet McCain drilling 30 points at Willisville for her best game ever. Also there are Karlene Coleman and Julia Brown on the starting line, both gaining in confidence and experience.

That defense is tough, too, with freshman guards Betty Honeycutt, Debbie Crank, and Judy Reynolds matching every opponent aggressively.

Now 5-9 for the season, the Lady Cats will try to repeat their 65-62 December win at Emmet tonight. Charlotte Gibson's forces lost 49-42 last time out at Willisville, and face a big week of basketball.

Tomorrow night the Ladies will host Willisville in a return bout along with the "B" boys, then they will play Gurdon in the Gurdon Invitational Tournament on Wednesday night at 9:00 p.m.

A pair of 4-AA wins have put the Hope "B" Lizards up to 4-1 for the year, with the only loss coming at Emmet 72-58 to the tough Eagles.

After beating Smackover 54-35 usual "B" starters will try to avenge that only loss tonight.

Celtics Clip N.Y. Knicks 109 to 102

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

From Boston west to Phoenix and from Milwaukee south to Atlanta the big noises in the National Basketball Association came from the bombing of backcourts.

The shooting of guards provided the spark as the Boston Celtics upset the New York Knicks 109-102, the Phoenix Suns edged the Baltimore Bullets 135-134, and Milwaukee Bucks trounced the San Francisco Warriors 123-107, the Atlanta Hawks drubbed the Chicago Bulls 125-107, the Philadelphia 76ers walloped the Cincinnati Royals 141-116 and the Detroit Pistons topped the Los Angeles Lakers 106-100.

Indiana downed New York 129-111, Denver blasted Carolina 135-112 and Los Angeles took Dallas 137-124 in the ABA.

Reserve guard Emmette Bryant came off the bench at the start of the second period and scored 13 points in the third quarter to spark Boston to a 90-80 lead. John Havlicek scored 30 points for the Celtics, who became the first team to beat Eastern Division-leading New York twice this season. Willis Reed led the Knicks with 31 points.

Phoenix trailed Baltimore by 24 points with 16 minutes left. Then guard Gail Goodrich shot in 12 of his 22 points in the final period as the Suns came back to win on rookie Lamar Green's tip-in with seven seconds left.

Dick Van Arsdale topped Phoenix scorers with 30 points. Kevin Loughery gunned in 34 points and Jack Martin 33 for Baltimore.

Another backcourtman, Jon McGlocklin, hit for 25 of his 29 points as Milwaukee built a 58-39 halftime advantage en route to a victory that moved the Bucks to within five games of New York.

Greg Smith added 25 and Lew Alcindor 23 for Milwaukee, Ron Williams tossed in 26 for San Francisco, playing without injured Lute Thurmond and Jeff Mullins, who was on military reserve duty.

Playmaker Walt Hazzard connected for 40 points in leading Western Division-leading Atlanta over Chicago, which was paced by Tom Bowerwinkle with an gmxa career high 29 points.

Hal Greer, known as a high-scoring guard, led Philadelphia's rout of Cincinnati with 27 points. Luther Rackley paced the Royals with 25.

Dave Bing, another backcourt deadeye, put in 27 points to go with center Otto Moore's pro-career high of 25 to spur Detroit. Hal Greer, known as a high-scoring guard, led Philadelphia's rout of Cincinnati with 27 points. Luther Rackley paced the Royals with 25.

Dave Bing, another backcourt deadeye, put in 27 points to go with center Otto Moore's pro-career high of 25 to spur Detroit past Los Angeles, led by Jerry West with 30 points.

With Moore going the route, Walt Bellamy failed to see action for the Pistons after having played in 241 consecutive regular-season games.

Saturday, Chicago edged Milwaukee 132-130 in overtime. Seattle nipped Phoenix 134-131 and Baltimore crushed San Diego 131-115.

Yastrzelski Ask for Poll of Ball Players

BOSTON (AP) — Carl Yastrzelski, the Boston Red Sox $130,000 a year slugger, opposes Curt Flood's court challenge of baseball's reserve clause and wants a poll of all major league players to determine their feelings.

Yastrzelski called for a poll in a weekend letter to Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Players Association.

The Boston outfielder noted that the association's board voted 25-0 "to give full support to

Rice Owls Conference Contenders

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

This could be the start of something big for the Rice Owls in the Southwest Conference basketball race but head coach Don Knodel isn't ready to proclaim the Owls a contender yet.

Rice used pressure defense and the sharpshooting of Gary Reist to erase a 15-point deficit and nick Texas Tech 86-85 in the SWC opener for both teams last Saturday.

Knodel said his assistant coach, George Mehaffey, had watched the Raiders earlier this season and ranked them just behind Baylor in the conference chase. But after beating the Raiders, Knodel isn't ready to put the Owls in the No. 2 spot.

"Although we've had two good games (they beat Tulane 87-80 last Monday) we're still inconsistent," Knodel said. "I think it's still premature to call us a contender. Before the season started, I thought we'd be a contender, now I don't know."

The Owls will test their consistency again Tuesday night when they play TCU on the road.

Southern Methodist, which almost blew a 12-point lead before nipped TCU 86-84 last Saturday, plays at Texas Tech in the only other game Tuesday.

SMU snapped a six-game losing streak in its conference opener against the Horned Frogs but the Mustangs saw a 75-63 lead with 2:57 to go almost vanish as the Frogs tried desperately to break out of a slump of their own. Both teams now are 2-9.

Gene Phillips, the SWC scoring titlist last season as a sophomore, led the Ponies with 31 points.

"I think we were looking at the clock," Phillips said. "We were looking at that scoreboard and hoping and waiting and we were afraid to do anything. We almost gave it away."

TCU coach Johnny Swalm noted that TCU outshot the Mustangs 50.8 to 40.6 per cent from the floor and still lost so "it must have been the mistakes. It had to be our throwing the ball away more."

Other games scheduled this week include Arkansas at Oklahoma City Wednesday and Arkansas at Baylor, Rice at SMU and Tech at TCU on Saturday.

Golf Money Shows Increase in Tourneys

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Golf Writer PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Dale Douglass, one of a flock of tour regulars who have come into their own in the last couple of years, said a touch of maturity may be responsible for the rise in his golfing fortunes.

"The last two years have been marked by a significant change," the articulate, soft-spoken Douglass said Sunday after taking the title in the $100,000 Phoenix Open Golf Tournament.

"I've always managed well, managed my game well. But now I'm just playing better. And I'm putting much, much better. That makes all the difference."

"Maturity may have something to do with it. I'm getting a little old not to have matured some," the 33-year-old said.

Douglass, a lean and lanky mountaineer now playing out of Evergreen, Colo., charged out of a tightly bunched field with a final round 66, five under par.

Douglass, a 6-foot-2, 160-pounder, scored his first tour victory last year in the Azalea Open, a minor tournament, then captured the Kemper Open en route to the best year of his 10-year pro career.

He finished the season with $91,500 in money winnings and gained a spot on the United States' Ryder Cup team. A money clip, given him by members of the opposing British team after those matches, incidentally, was taken from his golf bag before his final round.

Douglass finished at 271, 13 under par on the 6,765-yard, par 71 Phoenix Country Club course, and had a one-stroke margin over veteran Hoyke Johnson and Gene Littler, the defending champion and third round leader.

Littler slipped to a final 73 while Johnson had a 68. Tied at 273 were Dave Hill, Dave Marr, U.S. Open champion Orville Moody, Bob Lunn and Tom Weiskopf. Hill, Marr and Moody all had 67s, Lunn a 68 and Weiskopf a 70.

Homero Blancas was alone at 274 after a 71, while John Mullen was at 275 after a 72.

NEW BRUNSWICK,

Flood's Suit on Baseball Due Tuesday

NEW YORK (AP) — Curt Flood comes out swinging against baseball Tuesday amidst warnings from the presidents of the American and National Leagues that if the veteran outfielder's court challenge of baseball's reserve clause is successful it could mean an end to the sport.

The league heads — Charles "Chub" Feeney of the National League and Joe Cronin of the American — are defendants in the Federal Court suit along with Commissioner Bowie Kuhn and the 24 major league teams. They will be required at a hearing Tuesday to show cause why Flood's request to be declared a free agent should not be granted.

The 32-year-old Flood, a $90,000-a-year star, was traded from St. Louis to Philadelphia shortly after the 1969 season and subsequently had his request to be declared a free agent turned down by the commissioner's office.

Last Friday, Flood filed a civil suit charging that baseball is a monopoly that places players in a state of peonage and involuntary servitude and operates in restraint of trade.

In a joint statement Saturday, Feeney and Cronin not only listed seven chaotic results that would occur without the reserve clause but criticized Flood for violating his contract by refusing to honor the transfer of his contract from St. Louis to Philadelphia.

The seven points were listed as follows:

"1. The wealthier clubs could sign unbeaten teams of all-stars, totally destroying league competition.

"2. Clubs of more limited resources would be stripped of their stars and their ability to field a team which the public would accept.

"3. The integrity of the game would be threatened as players could negotiate with one club while playing for another.

"4. Clubs could no longer afford to spend millions of dollars

Bird Feeders Presented to Residents to scout and sign new players and to subsidize their development in the minor leagues. No club could build with assurance and no intelligent person would continue to invest the large capital required for player compensation, an unmatched pension and benefit plan costing $5,450,000 million per year, minor league subsidies and the other costs of operating a major league club.

"5. The minor leagues, which exist only because of major league support, would be destroyed. Professional baseball is the only team sport that finances the development of its players.

"6. Mutually advantageous trades would become impossible if the players' consents were required, thus preventing contract assignments which have been beneficial to both clubs and players and which are exciting to those who support the game of baseball.

"7. Professional baseball would simply cease to exist."

Phoney Warranty Removed

By G. DAVID WALLACE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Home appliance warranties are growing visibly shorter and simpler as a result of federal prodding. But the most significant defection since former presidential consumer adviser Betty Furness launched the warranty-strengthening program a year ago is one most consumers paid no attention to in the first place.

"This warranty is given in lieu of all other warranties express or implied" no longer appears on warranties from the major producers of the 100 million or so toasters, refrigerators, air conditioners and other home appliances sold in this country every year.

The phrase relieved the maker and retailer of any obligation that an appliance sold as, say, a dishwasher did, in fact, wash dishes.

Without such a disclaimer, a manufacturer is responsible for the implied warranty created by simply calling a product a dishwasher.

A federal task force said last year of appliance warranties: "Actually, they are all too frequently a fog-shrouded halo which effectively camouflages a lengthy list of disclaimers and limitations upon the seller's obligations under an express or implied warranty which the law would otherwise impose upon him."

With the task force report in mind, Miss Furness recommended federal regulation of warranties if the industry didn't shape up within a year.

In response, the General Electric dishwasher warranty, for example, shrank from 600 words of legal jargon to 115 simpler words, and the industry agreed to set up a quasi-independent consumer complaint council.

Was the action sufficient to head off congressional legislation? The question will be debated beginning Tuesday in hearings by the Senate Committee on Commerce.

Speakers in the office of Miss Furness' successor, Virginia Knaus, have declined comment on the question so far. They say they have no desire to prematurely remove the legislative threat hanging over manufacturers' heads.

Mrs. Knaus has expressed some pleasure, however, with the industry's steps.

The steps taken by the manufacturers since January satisfy — on paper, at least — all but one of the task force proposals.

A. J. Foyt Wins Motor Trend 500

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — A. J. Foyt won the 500-mile Riverside Motor Trend stock car race, yet his first thoughts were of the driver he'd seen critically injured.

"He hit and flew up and I knew he had hit awfully hard," said Foyt who was ahead of Jim Cook in laps but behind him on the course, going into turn No. 9 of Riverside International Raceway.

"If you're going only 100 miles an hour and hit solid, it will hurt you."

Foyt knows. An accident at this track in 1965 broke his back and put him in the hospital for months.

Cook, approaching the turn, tried to avoid a jam-up by going around it on the outside. Instead he slammed head-on into the wall.

The 46-year-old father of six, a Norwalk, Calif., roofer by trade, underwent surgery at Riverside Community Hospital immediately after being evacuated by helicopter.

His condition Sunday night was listed as very critical.

Earlier another driver, Buddy Young of Fairfax, Va., escaped serious injury even though his car rolled about 15 times in another single-car accident.

Only 15 of 44 starters were running at the conclusion of the 193-lap test for as Foyt explained, "This is a very, very tough race to finish. Equipment wouldn't take this much beating in 200,000 miles of highway driving."

Foyt, in his Ford Torino, took the lead when Parnelli Jones and his Mercury went out after 168 laps with clutch trouble.

From then on it was a duel between the Texas from Houston, three-time winner of the Indianapolis 500, and Robert McCluskey of Tucson, Ariz., a member of the team driving the new Plymouth Roadrunner Superbirds.

Robert McCluskey of Arizona, only three seconds behind Foyt who was clocked at 96,711 miles per hour for the race which lasted 5 hours 18 minutes and eight seconds.

With the yellow caution flag used on six occasions, the speed was far below the record 105,516 by Richard Petty of Handelman, N.C., last year when there were no yellows.

Third place went to Lee Roy Yarbrough of Columbia, S.C., 11 seconds behind the winner, as only the first three completed all 193 laps.

"B" Lizards in Victory Over Badgers

By BILL MOORE
Hitting some critical shots in the late going Saturday night, the Hope B-Lizards pulled out a 4-2 victory over the Arkadelphia Badgers in Jones Field House.

Showing some determination and pride, the Lizards fought back to win and push their record to 4 and 1, after trailing with only a couple of minutes left in the game.

Steve Harris hit Hope's first two points, but Arkadelphia came right back for two. Then, Lynn Norton hit a free throw, Tommy Webb a basket, and Bill Rowland a free throw, for a 6-4 lead with 3:02 left in the first quarter.

Roger Newton hit one point, Norton and Webb a basket each, and Norton again, for a free throw, to give Hope a 12-11 lead at the close of the first segment.

In the second quarter both teams traded points on equal terms. Webb hit a jumper, Harris for two baskets, and Newton two points, for a 20-13 lead, with 4:25 left.

Norton made a three point play with 3:09 left, and Harris and Newton added a pair of free throws, to give Hope a 27-26 halftime lead.

The second half was a bruising battle, with the lead changing hands several times.

Webb hit a charity throw for a 28-26 margin, but Arkadelphia came back to tie it up and then pull ahead. Newton hit a jumpshot and Norton a free throw for a 31-30 lead, but the Badgers got two quick baskets for a 34-31 score, and only Harris hit a free one with 1:38 left, as the Lizards trailed, 36-32, entering the final period.

Guard Tommy Frazier hit two charity shots, and Norton on a basket and free throw, to pull the Lizards to within one, 36-37, with 2:54 left.

Seconds later Newton hit from the baseline, Arkadelphia drove for two and Newton connected for one from the free throw circle to knot the score 40 all with 1:42 left.

Arkadelphia hit their last point with 1:03 left. Then Frazier got a pair of charity shots, and Newton hit the winning basket with only 0:05 showing on the clock.

Bobby Orr Doesn't Think He Will Win

By LARRY ELDREDGE
Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP) — Fabulous Bobby Orr, always the last one to jump on his own bandwagon, still thinks his chances of winning the National Hockey League scoring title are on the slim side.

The 21-year-old superstar of the Boston Bruins had a goal and an assist in Sunday night's 6-3 victory over Montreal to break his own season scoring record for a defenseman and keep rolling along in the league lead, but he has his doubts about staying there.

"We're only a little more than halfway through the season," he said after the game, "and a few guys haven't started scoring the way they can yet."

One of those "few guys," of course, is Orr's teammate Phil Esposito, the 1968-69 scoring champion. Watched closely by opposing teams, Esposito struggled a bit at the start of this season but has been coming on strongly of late to thrust himself into the race. He too had a goal and an assist Sunday night, and now has 54 points.

Esposito, though, wants no part of any talk about individual races.

"We're just going to keep playing hockey the way we have been," the big center said. "We're trying to win games. Bobby's playing terrific, and the more points he gets, the better it is for the team."

Orr got his assist Sunday night right at the start when he helped set up a goal by Esposito in the first minute of play. Then after the Bruins had fallen behind 2-1 in the second period, he blasted in a slap shot from the blue line to tie the score late in the session.

The assist was his 52nd of the season and the goal was his 13th, giving him 65 points, with nearly half the campaign still to go compared to the record full season production of 21-43-64 which he set a year ago.

The Canadiens came back to take a 3-2 lead, however, on a goal by Yvon Cournoyer in the closing minute of the second period, only to have Boston stage a four-goal barrage by Jim Laurent, Fred Stanfield, Yvonne Westfall and John Bucyk in the finale.

"It felt great," Orr said of the record-breaking goal and the prolonged overtime it drew from the 14,835 fans at Boston Garden. "It wouldn't have meant as much if we had had thought, that's for sure. It didn't look so good at the end of the second period."

In other NHL action, Detroit downed Los Angeles 3-1, Chicago topped Oakland by the same score and Pittsburgh bought off Philadelphia 6-1.

Al Kurbanov and Pete Monkowski scored 79 seconds apart late in the second period and Gordie Howe added a third period goal as the Red Wings edged two points ahead of Chicago in the battle for fourth place in the East Division.

Bodie Stark of the Red Wings goal gave the Kings a 1-0 lead and Gerry Desjardins repeated earlier goaltending kept the Kings at bay for 37 minutes.

Bobkittens Outscore Camden Jrs.

By BILL MOORE

Friday night in Jones Field House, the Yerger Junior High Bobkittens outlasted the Camden Lincoln Tigers, 34-28, in a tight scoring battle, raising their record to 5 wins against 6 losses.

Lincoln scored first on a two pointer, but with 4:10 left in the first quarter, Buddy Ingram hit a jump shot for a 2-2 score. After Lincoln hit four straight points, Ingram hit a free throw and Jimmy Smith a basket to narrow the gap, 6-5.

Two points by Danny Joyce and one each by Ingram and Smith finished the quarter with Hope trailing, 12-9.

Hope outscored their opponent 8-5 in the second quarter and tied the score at 17 all at intermission. Ingram had 4 points, Smith, 3, and Joyce 1.

In the second half it was mostly Hope, though Lincoln came back to within one in the last segment.

Ingram hit two for a 19-17 lead, but then Lincoln tied the score and jumped out to a 21-19 lead. With 1:03 left, Smith hit a basket and seconds later Joyce hit two baskets and lively a free throw, for a 26-21 lead at the end of the third segment.

Joyce quickly hit for a 28-21 lead, but the Kittens froze and Lincoln pulled to within one, 28-27.

With 3:24 left in the game Ingram hit for two and then added two charity shots for a 32-27 margin. While stalling the ball Joyce put on a dribbling exhibition. After Bulginghe managed to keep dribbling the ball while stalling around and getting up off the floor, and using time.

Smith hit the last basket with four seconds left, as the Bobkittens won a hard earned victory.

Tennessee Governor Not to Speak

By BILL MOORE (AP) — Dr. Andrew B. Holt, president of the University of Tennessee at Knoxville, has canceled out as speaker at Secretary of State Kelly Bryant's "Appreciation" dinner.

Holt said Saturday a "conflicting engagement" would keep him from attending the $260,000 dinner, which will be held Tuesday night at the Martin Hotel in Little Rock.

Bryant has been close-mouthed about the banquet, which reportedly is arranging for him off and which he compared to "throwing a birthday party for your mother."

Report on State Press Convention

I suppose the only convention you feel is really newsworthy is the one you attend — so you're stuck with this report on the Winter meeting of the Arkansas Press association at Hot Springs' Arlington Hotel Friday and Saturday, because I was there.

That it's a small world is made clear by the folks you meet at almost any convention. My illustration has to do with Bob White, publisher of the Mexico (Mo.) Ledger and past president of Sigma Delta Chi, national newspaper fraternity. Mr. White made a fine inspirational talk on our profession at the Saturday noon luncheon.

How humanity's trails do cross was something I discussed with Mr. White before the luncheon. When I was a journalism student at the University of Missouri (B.J. '23) I drew an assignment Christmas 1922 to go over to Mexico, Mo., as news editor for the two-week holiday and relieve Editor White on the news desk.

It was Bob White's father, and Bob said I was correct in recalling there was an elder White also around at that time — Bob's grandfather.

So the man who delivered last Saturday's fine speech came by it rightly — a third-generation newspaperman.

Equally memorable with my experience in Mexico, Mo., was the journey in getting there from the university seat at Columbia, a distance which I recall is about 90 miles. I went by rail and changed trains twice, one of the stops being at Louisiana, Mo., the name of the other town having been forgotten.

Don't tell me about the good old days — it was tedious business back yonder negotiating a rail journey that could be accomplished by automobile today in a couple of hours.

Another feature of the convention was the Friday night banquet speaker, a humorist and musician — none other than Tom Lavin of Atlanta, Texas, former Hope High School bandmaster. Mr. Lavin is a small-city bandmaster who has made it big on the banquet circuit, one of his most recent appearances having been in Cleveland.

The Hot Springs convention gave him a resounding hand.

Hot Springs itself produced an important part of the entertainment, a high school singing group performing as The Madrigals, directed by Mrs. Dora Jane Ledgerwood Ellis. They did everything to perfection: Old English songs, tunes from Cole Porter's "Kiss Me Kate" (Broadway musical based on "Taming of the Shrew"), and folk songs.

Civilization, said Mrs. Ellis, consists of the ability of a people to entertain themselves — and The Madrigals are proof that home-grown entertainment can sometimes be marvelous.

Fish Farmers Ask Change in Charter

LITTLE ROCK, AP — Charles Files of Hunter, president of the Arkansas Fish Farmers Association, says he would oppose the proposed new state constitution if it allows fish farming to remain under the jurisdiction of the state Game and Wildlife Commission.

Files said Saturday he also would urge the association's members to oppose the document also.

In a news conference, Files called for fish farming to be placed under the jurisdiction of an agricultural regulatory agency.

He said if the fish farming industry were allowed to remain under the Game and Fish Commission control, it would be legislated out of existence because of demands made on the industry by the federal Food and Drug Administration.

He said the federal Food and Drug Administration has challenged some of the herbicides, which he termed essential, used in fish farming.

Bob Merton's Chrysler Agency Gutted by Fire

The showroom of Bob Merton Motors, Chrysler-Plymouth-Dodge automobile agency in Hope was destroyed by fire early Monday morning. Five new cars, three inside and two outside, were among the ruins.

Hope Fire Dept. answered a call at 3:07 a.m. to the agency to find it engulfed in flames. However, firemen did manage to save the service department by keeping the fire from spreading.

ing past the center brick wall. All regular firemen except three left at the station, and most of the volunteer firemen, fought the blaze in sub-freezing weather, bringing the fire under control about 7 a.m.

At 7:05 the Dept. was called to the home of Mrs. Marie Hendrix at 15th and Walker streets to a chimney fire. No damage resulted.

Colonization of Moon Possible, Space Unit Medical Chief Says

HOPE, Ark. (AP)—An official of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration has predicted colonization of the moon by man.

Dr. Charles A. Berry, director of medical research and operations at NASA in Houston, said Saturday at the winter meeting of the Arkansas Press Association that research is underway to develop shelters for the lunar surface. He said that the main problem was pre-sterilization.

Berry, a native of Rogers, also speculated about a possibility that vegetation could be grown inside structures on the moon. He said that vegetation sprinkled with moon dust increased growth "at a remarkable rate."

Commenting on recent remarks by Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, Robert M. White II, publisher of the Mexico, Mo. Ledger, told the association that Agnew should have accused the television industry of a lack of professionalism rather than bias.

A past national president of Sigma Delta Chi, the professional journalism society, White said the heads of the three television networks were the most powerful men in the industry because of their influence.

However, he said that the majority of the television executives had an entertainment background, not a news background. He said television was too concerned with ratings.

White said a news show at

2 Robberies Reported on Week-End

Local officers were called to Crow-Burlingame Saturday afternoon at 3:30 p.m. to investigate a break-in. An undetermined amount of money was taken.

At 2:05 a.m. Monday police spotted a broken window at Kelt's Jewelry store. Owners said that ladies' rings and other pieces of jewelry were taken. The loss could not be estimated at press time. Officers McCulley and Rowe investigated.

Hope Police Dept. issued the following report for the week-end:

Six traffic violations, one license violation, two burglaries, one charge of drunkenness, four DWI, three accidents. This brings to 14 the number of accidents and four injuries for this year.

Reprisal on Protesters Forbidden

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today stripped draft boards of the power to speed up the induction of Vietnam war protesters.

Justice William O. Douglas, in a 5-3 decision, said the court had searched federal draft laws in vain for any clues that Congress desired to give draft boards this authority.

He said "It is a broad, roving authority, a type of administrative absolutism not congenial to our lawmaking traditions."

The only punitive power draft law provides, Douglas said, is prosecution of registrants who refuse to submit to induction orders.

Justices Hugo L. Black, William J. Brennan Jr., Byron R. White and Thurgood Marshall supported the decision. Chief Justice Warren E. Burger, Potter Stewart and John M. Harlan concurred in its effect on a Minnesota man but would have allowed local boards some of the authority the majority denied them.

The court ruled in the case of David Earl Gulknecht, 22, of Gaylord, Minn., whose draft call was accelerated when he turned in his draft card at an antiwar protest in Minneapolis in 1967.

Prisoners Resume Work at Cummins

CUMMINS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — State Correction Commissioner C. Robert Sarver has reported that no concessions or promises were made to persuade striking Cummins Prison Farm to end their protest.

The last of about 270 inmates who had participated in the protest went back to work Wednesday. There were about 40 holdouts.

The inmates began a work and hunger strike early Jan. 10, but most had dropped out of the protest by last Monday.

Sarver said that the 40 holdouts would lose their statutory and meritorious good time. He said they did not receive a promise that their good time would be restored when they went back to work.

Robert S. McCord of North Little Rock was re-elected treasurer.

Bill Woods of Hazen was elected to the board.

Cold May Increase in State Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Arkansians awoke to treacherous streets and highways following rain, sleet and snow Sunday. The Arkansas State Police issued repeated warnings for motorists to drive in most areas of the state throughout today and tonight only if necessary and with the aid of chains.

The state should be prepared for a cold night tonight as the U.S. Weather Bureau predicts that the temperatures will drop to five above in the northwest section of the state to the teens and low 20s in the southeast. A clearing trend should develop, but even lower temperatures can be expected.

The cold front that was located in Southern Arkansas Sunday has now drifted into extreme Southeast Louisiana and the high pressure system that was centered over North Dakota has drifted to extreme South Dakota.

The high has a ridge southward through Texas into Mexico and the Gulf. This high is forecast to dry slowly eastward for the next two or three days while retaining control of the Arkansas weather. By Wednesday the high will have drifted far enough eastward for a noticeable warming trend to develop.

Highs Sunday ranged from 15 at Fayetteville to 52 at Texarkana.

Overnight lows were 5 at Harrison; 7 at Fayetteville; 15 at Memphis; 20 at Little Rock; 22 at Pine Bluff; 24 at El Dorado and 27 at Texarkana.

Precipitation for the 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. today totaled .02 of an inch at Fort Smith and Memphis; .04 at El Dorado and Pine Bluff; .06 at Jonesboro and Fayetteville; .07 at Harrison; .28 at Little Rock and a trace at Texarkana.

Captain of Marines Acquitted

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — A court-martial today acquitted Marine Capt. Robert W. Poolaw, 31, of Anadarko, Okla., on a charge of murdering a Vietnamese prisoner of war.

Poolaw, an American Indian, sat through most of the 6½-hour trial with his head bowed but broke into a broad grin when the verdict was announced.

The captain, who holds the Bronze Star and about 10 other combat medals, had pleaded innocent to the charge of shooting a Vietnamese captured during an operation last Aug. 11 in the Que Son mountains south of Da Nang.

Witnesses identified the dead man as a North Vietnamese prisoner of war.

Radium-Production Plant, Now Obsolete, Torn Down by Experts

NEW YORK (AP) — In a silent drama played out in the basement of Memorial Hospital, four radiation experts in yellow safety clothes and air masks cut away two glass flasks containing intensely dangerous radium.

The delicate procedure marked the end of an era in American medicine, begun in 1917 when Dr. James Douglas, a physician and metallurgist whose daughter died of cancer, donated a fraction of an ounce of radium to the hospital.

Radium was the first radioactive weapon against cancer, and with the gift from Dr. Douglas, Memorial Hospital built the first

New Session of Congress Opens Today

By WALTER R. MEANS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The 91st Congress returned to the capital today. Its Democratic majority poised to open the election-year session by challenging President Nixon's call for a cut in education spending.

Even before Nixon goes to Capitol Hill Thursday to deliver his first State of the Union message, congressional Democrats may send him a message of their own—go ahead and veto the budget-raising appropriation for education and health programs.

The $10.7 billion appropriation is for a budget year already more than half over. The White House has said Nixon will veto it, because it exceeds his budget by $1.26 billion.

Democrats will need a two-thirds vote, first in the House and then the Senate, to override a veto. GOP leaders express confidence any override attempt will fail, and even House Speaker John W. McCormack has said it will be difficult to defeat the President.

The bill tops the Senate agenda. Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said the debate will begin without the traditional delay to await the State of the Union address.

Democratic leaders see the issue as one of national priorities, insisting that money for more education and health research can be pared from other outlays — primarily defense. Republican loyalists insist rejection of the extra spending is vital to Nixon's efforts to combat inflation.

The House passed the bill before the break, so final Senate rollcall, likely this week, would send the measure to the White House.

Even as the HEW spending debate begins, Nixon has ordered new cuts in his budget for fiscal 1971, which begins July 1.

That budget blueprint may go to Congress about Feb. 2. Nixon wants original estimates trimmed by about $3 billion, to approximately $200 billion, to keep the budget in balance without new taxes.

The Nov. 3 congressional elections, with the entire House and 35 Senate seats at stake, will cast a political influence over much of the session.

But with his major proposals still awaiting action, Nixon is going to need Democratic votes on both sides of the Capitol, and that may lead to a conciliatory political tone—at least until autumn.

The pressures of campaigning may affect the congressional timetable, too.

Mansfield, who is running for re-election in Montana, said he is prepared to keep the Senate in session until two weeks before election day and avoid a post-election session.

But the House may be anxious for an earlier getaway, even if it means a return to work after Nov. 3.

Mansfield said he would confer with McCormack in an effort to speed 1970 action on appropriations bills—one of the hang-ups that kept the last session going until Dec. 23.

Two current appropriations bills, the veto threatened measure for the departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare, and $1.8 billion in foreign aid funds, have not cleared Congress yet.

The agencies involved are operating under resolutions which authorize spending at past rates. The stop-gap measures expire Jan. 30.

Among other major issues on the congressional agenda: —Welfare legislation. Nixon proposed an overhaul to guarantee a minimum $1,600 a year for a family of four, with reduced assistance for the working poor. —Crime. Bills are pending to provide new legal weapons for use against organized crime, and to combat narcotics traffic —while easing the penalty for personal use of marijuana.

—A revised administration bill to authorize $3.1 billion in federal aid for mass transit systems is ready for debate, and a four-year extension of federal

May Thaw Cold War With China

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, seeking a new era in its relations with Peking, plans to propose to Communist China in Warsaw this week the two countries take small, practical steps to open up trade, travel and communications between them.

Nixon administration officials expect slow progress in the Warsaw talks opening Tuesday and would not be surprised if there was no movement at all for some months. But they have been encouraged by the speed and businesslike manner in which the Chinese have responded to recent U.S. overtures for discussions.

Behind their view is a belief that China's sharpening border quarrel with the Soviet Union is causing Peking to reassess its traditionally hostile attitude to-

SAIGON (AP) — A powerful Viet Cong claymore mine exploded in the midst of a column of South Vietnamese officer cadets near Saigon today, killing 18 Vietnamese and wounding 35.

Killed were 16 cadets at the Thu Duc Military Academy, one officer instructor and one civilian. The wounded were 34 cadets and an officer instructor.

A company of 150 to 200 cadets had just begun a morning training exercise when the mine was electrically detonated by remote control and sprayed hundreds of shrapnel pellets into the column.

The academy is six miles north of Saigon.

Only light, scattered ground action was reported elsewhere, but the U.S. Command reported a sharp increase in enemy rocket and mortar attacks in the

He gave cues for all diseases, the long-haired Brody said he had a cure for cancer. "I will give $10 billion in aid to North Vietnam to retreat from the South. If they do that, I will give them $20 billion more in aid and go over there and personally help them build their country."

And the claims, his banker in Secaucus, N.J., where Brody lives, said the young man didn't Brody solemnly revealed his plan Sunday to end the war in Vietnam, and said he would disclose a cure for cancer today.

He also told a national television audience that his fortune has grown from $27 million to $100 billion and he will give it away if people will only give him some peace and quiet.

Brody, 21, capped a whirlwind weekend by playing guitar and singing at the Ed Sullivan Show after he flew back from a few

Says Briton

By ROBERT ROSENBLUM
Associated Press Writer
LAGOS (AP) — Lord Hunt, British Minister of State for Africa, said today that he had no evidence of a plot to assassinate the Nigerian president, General Yakubu Gowon, during his visit to Lagos.

An informant said that during a three-day tour, Lord Hunt visited General Gowon's last major town, Oshogbo, the last rebel government seat. The location of the airport that kept Gowon alive with supplies from the outside, Abuja, and other places.

The British representative said the general refugee situation was "encouraging" and the refugee problem of a far smaller scale than some had predicted. He said thousands of refugees in apparently good conditions were returning home.

Hunt also reported that he saw Nigerian federal soldiers feeding refugees from the Ibo tribe.

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant added Lagos to a tour of African nations and arrived Sunday to discuss ways the world organization could aid reconstruction after the 30-month civil war.

Thant was to have flown to Port Harcourt today for a first-hand look at how the Nigerian Red Cross is coping with the hungry refugees streaming from the bush. But he decided not to go, reportedly because he was expected in Paris Tuesday and did not have time for the trip.

Two planes took 80 foreign newsmen to Port Harcourt Sunday for the first press visit to what once was Biafra since the war ended last Monday. The takeoff was delayed eight hours, and police with dogs and clubs were called to hold back the newsmen as they staged a demonstration at the air terminal here just before Thant arrived.

The newsmen were first told that the trip had been canceled because the local governor was holding his daughter's wedding reception at Port Harcourt's hotel and there was no room for the newsmen.

Port Harcourt, the seat of Nigeria's oil industry and the country's second largest port, was taken by federal forces in May 1968. It is now the coordinating point for relief operations for the Biafran refugees.

Officials said 300 prisoners of war were released at Abakaliki, in East Central State, as the beginning of a general amnesty for Ibo tribesmen "misled into rebellion." Others would be freed later, the government said.

Signs of peace were starting to appear in Lagos. Street lights were switched on Sunday night for the first time in 2½ years, and people drove through the streets just to look at the spectacle. The sound of drums was heard again. They had been banned for years for fear they might be used to transmit harmful messages.

In Rome, Pope Paul VI praised Nigerian authorities for avoiding "violence and vendetta." He spoke a week after he had expressed fears that the defeated Biafrans would face genocide.

The Pope's statement last week set off demonstrations against him in Lagos. Nigeria has barred relief from the Vatican agency Caritas as well as other church relief groups because they aided the Biafran rebels.

An airplane operated by the Danish Red Cross returned to Copenhagen from Geneva Sunday night with 11 tons of medicine for Nigeria. The plane was reported to have received permission to land at Lagos last Friday, but the clearance was withdrawn the next day. The International Red Cross then asked that the plane return to Denmark because the Nigerian government has blacklisted the Danish Red Cross also.

Four British planes left London for Lagos during the night, carrying ambulances, trucks and 11 tons of medical supplies. Two British doctors and a nurse also left London, to be followed by another 23 doctors and 34 nurses. The British government supported the Nigerian federal regime during the war, and relief from Britain is being welcomed.

1040 U.S. Individual Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q: I kept a record of my earnings and withholdings for the year and am all set to file my return. Do I have to wait until I get my W-2?

A: Yes, one copy of all W-2's must be attached to your tax return when you send it in. Processing of the returns and refunds are delayed if this is not done. You should receive your W-2 no later than February 2.

Note that this year, the W-2 should be stapled to the back of Form 1040 rather than the front.

Q: Is there any change in who has to file a return for 1969?

A: Filing requirements for 1969 Federal income tax returns are unchanged from last year.

To summarize them, a return must be filed by every person under 65 who had gross income of $600 or more for the year. For those 65 or older on the last day of tax year, a return does not have to be filed until gross income reaches $1,200.

Also, anyone who has net earnings of $400 or more from self-employment, is required to file a return and pay self-employment tax.

Filing requirements also apply to minors. A parent or guardian should file a return on behalf of a child who has gross income of $600 or more during the tax year. In every case, you must file a return to get any refund due.

Q: I'm a senior at college and I'm due a tax refund on some part-time work I did. Can I claim my own exemption without causing my father to lose the exemption he claims for me?

A: Yes, if you were a full-time student during some part of five months of the year, you can claim your own exemption and your father will not lose you as an exemption, so long as the necessary dependency tests are met. In this situation, the same exemption can be claimed on two returns, yours and your parent's.

Q: What taxes can I deduct?

A: If you itemize deductions, state and local income, sales, gasoline, personal property and real estate taxes may be deducted. These should be listed on Schedule A Itemized Deductions, and attached to your Form 1040.

Those who itemize will find that using the new Schedule A provides more room to list things such as medical expenses and charitable contributions than was available on the back of the old Form 1040.

Q: Where can I get a copy of your tax guide?

A: A copy of Your Federal Income Tax 1970 edition may be purchased from most IRS offices for 60 cents. You may also obtain this publication by using the order form on the inside cover of the 1040 tax form package. Send a check or money order with the order blank to the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D.C. 20402.

Q: Other than the fact that color makes the form look nicer is there any advantage in having red, white and blue tax forms?

A: It is expected that color will draw the taxpayer's attention to those areas on the tax form where errors are made which lead to delays in processing returns and issuing refunds. The instructions for

Officer Queen Jasmine Stake Race Winner

By ED SCHUYLER JR., Associated Press Sports Writer
Stephen Calder's Officer Queen almost duplicated the performance of Buckland Farm's Frosty Dancer in winning the second division of the Jasmine Stakes for 3-year-old fillies. But the similarity ended at the cashier windows.

Frosty Dancer, ridden by Eddie Belmonte, won the $26,100 first division Saturday at Hialeah by 3½ lengths, running the six furlongs in 1:10 4-5, then withstanding a foul claim.

Officer Queen, John L. Rotz up, scored in the $25,350 second section by two lengths, being timed in 1:11 1-5 and withstanding a foul claim.

After the result of the second division became official, comparisons ended—Frosty Dancer paid a winning mutual of $62.40, Officer Queen returned $6.

Common reasons for delays in processing returns and issuing refunds are a missing or inaccurate Social Security number or an illegible name or address. When a return is filed using the label showing the taxpayer's correct name, address and Social Security number, this cause for delay is removed.

Army to Get a New and Simpler Tank

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army appears to have won its fight for an advanced battle tank, but the service probably will have to settle for a cheaper and simpler machine.

Pentagon sources said Deputy Secretary of Defense David

Packard has completed his months-long review of the MBT 70 tank, which a House committee called "overly sophisticated, unnecessarily complex and too expensive."

Army officials spoke optimistically about the outcome of the Packard review, and Defense Department sources indicated the Army has reason to be optimistic.

Army leaders accept a Packard requirement to produce a tank much cheaper than the $700,000 price tag on the original model opposed in Congress.

Planners now expect to be able to produce an advanced model for about $500,000 apiece, still the most costly tank in U.S. history.

The savings would come from stripping away certain sophisticated extras as exotic night-firing devices, a nuclear decontamination unit and an auxiliary power source.

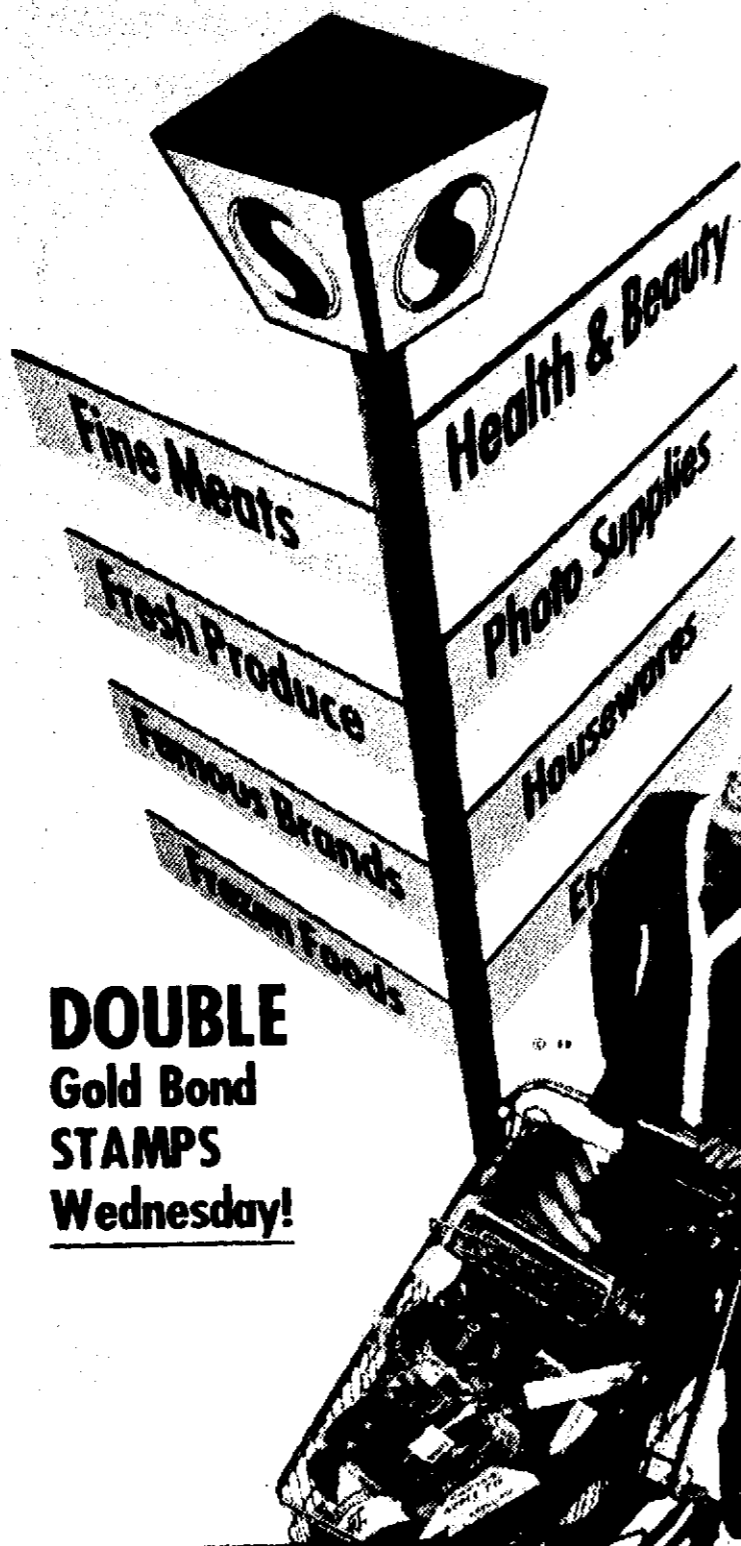

The result, Army officials said, will still yield an excellent new basic tank with an improved engine, gun, missile, suspension system and a novel automatic ammunition loader that enables the tank to fire while on the move over rough 0 tank, terrain.

Until about Christmas, Army officials felt the future of the new main battle tank was a very close question.

But now they feel Packard has been persuaded the Army can't come up with a simpler and more economical tank which would achieve its basic objectives of being able to outshoot any known opposing armor in the 1970s.
